Cubmaster Specific Training

Tuesday, September 24, 2013

An evening course designed to help you provide the best Cub Scout program to the boys.

You were selected as Cubmaster and approved by the pack committee because of your interest in helping boys. It is your pack responsibility to coordinate the efforts of all the leaders in the pack so that the Cub Scout program works the way it should. By making the commitment to serve as Cubmaster, you have accepted the following responsibilities:

> Plan and carry out the Cub Scout program in the pack. This includes conducting regular monthly pack meetings. Work with the pack committee on program ideas, selecting adult leaders, and establishing a pack budget plan. Guide and support den leaders. See that they receive the required training for their positions.

We will also talk about advancement, resources for Scout leaders, Roundtables, and how to use a Den Chief to give the boys a role model and take some of the pressure off of a den leader.

We anticipate that the Cubmaster Specific training will last from 6:30 PM to approximately 8:00 PM.

Please join us for evening of fun with a purpose!
